KELLAR IS HELD FOR TRIAL

May Men With Any Sense Would Say You Have Violated the Law—W. H. Davis Says

See the preliminary hearing of James Kellar, negro porter, who testified that Kellar forced him into making dates here for the girl, was false, but that he could not prove his point. His testimony apparently was not taken seriously by the court. Throughout the preliminary Kellar, who is now in jail, testified nervously with his hat and would not meet the scornful glances of his young wife.

Officers say Kellar's brother arrived in Tulsa Thursday evening and that he was attempting to get the girl to return home. Kellar, it is said, flatly refused his proposition and maintained the stand she has held since she was first stranded here—namely she will not return to her folks.

Evidence presented at the preliminary hearing showed that the two came to Oklahoma before they were married, and Kellar admitted furnishing funds for the trip. Kellar was arrested here after his young wife had told of his persecutions and called officers. The defendant admitted that he has been married before but was divorced. Local police officers are attempting to establish the fact that he has another wife besides Edna.

Day Nursery Imposters.
A communication has been received by The World from Mrs. J. M. Ward, member of the board of directors of the day nursery, saying there are two women in the city collecting clothes for the nursery who have not been officially designated by the directors.

Any information concerning the two women should be sent to the headquarters of the nursery so that proper means may be taken for the arrest and conviction of the false representatives.

BLOOD IS YOUR LIFE;
MUST KEEP IT PUREAll Impurities Must Be Eliminated.

When the blood becomes foul from the presence of poisonous substances, which the body is unable to throw off, it can no longer supply the nerves, brain and muscles with nourishment and strength. The result is that you are miserable, half sick and feel tired all the time.

If you will cleanse the blood of all impurities, you will find that your work will be a pleasure, you will eat and sleep well and enjoy good health.

One of the best blood cleansers or purifiers known today is the prescription of a successful physician. He used it for years in his practice for the treatment of disorders of the blood.

You can still get this same splendid prescription, ready prepared from your drugist. Just call for Prescription C-2223, or the C-2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn., will mail you a $1.50 bottle on receipt of price.

Prescription C-2223 contains no mercury, opium, morphine, chloral or strychnine. While sold in concentrated form, and is to be taken in small doses, its use will not harm the most delicate stomach. Write for literature—C-2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn.

TULSA WELCOMES
ENGINEERS HOMEContinued from Page One
Travel to Ardmore before finally reaching Tulsa, the engineers
Red Cross Food Soldiers.

Workers of the local Red Cross issued sandwiches, pie and coffee to the 150 men who arrived on the first section Thursday morning. These rationed had been stored in the city for the entire corps but the first section got it all. Light lunch was again served by the Red Cross in the evening. The boys were again reminded of France when a number of Salvation Army workers appeared at the Franco station last night and passed out bouquets, of which they had prepared 1500.

The following telegram was received from Senator T. P. Gore by The World Thursday evening:

"Kindly extend my heartiest greetings to each and every one of the returning soldiers who are on their way from American expeditionary force. I wish to join with the citizens of your city and our state in giving them most cordial welcome and greeting. It is a source of regret that I was unable to meet them at their arrival in New York with the Washington delegation. I rejoice with you and them all in the homecoming. With most sincere good wishes I am your friend truly, T. P. GORE."

The engineers are gone and probably it will be two weeks before Company B is mustered out and finally returns to Tulsa. The arch of triumph remains in remembrance of the greatest military demonstration in Oklahoma history.

TWO AUTOMOBILES ARE STOLEN DURING PARADE

Two stolen automobiles were the toll for the day during the reception of the 150th engineers yesterday. This is the smallest automobile theft report the police has had for a long time during a celebration in the city and the public officers are pleased over the efficient work of the force during the day.

P. A. Schmitt, representing the Firestone Tire company of Oklahoma City reported the loss of a Ford touring car which was stolen from in front of Hotel Tulsa during the earlier part of the afternoon, and Bert Young of the Y. M. C. A. reported the loss of a Maxwell touring car which was taken from the corner of Fourth and Cincinnati during the parade.

The general consensus of opinion among the forty-seven representatives of the IRON DIVISION of Wilson and Company in Northeastern Pennsylvania is that it is an honor to be on the Wilson and Company payroll, and that it gives them an opportunity to satisfy their own ambition in life. They are the men who are identified with an organization which stands for idealism and CERTIFIED PRACTICE in business.

Frankman, in speaking of Wilson and Company's Certified Brand Hams, said:

DEAR FOLKS:

BUSINESS took me to Scranton, Pa., during the week of May 12-15, and while there I was fortunate in meeting forty-seven men who represent the IRON DIVISION of Wilson and Co.—managers of branches and salesmen. It was during the week that the people of the Keystone state bubbled over with enthusiasm and a wonderful welcome to the men of the IRON DIVISION OF PENNSYLVANIA who had returned from France after having performed in magnificent fashion at a great sacrifice of life, but showing that indomitable courage and will of the men of rugged character and physique that the power, which are attributes hills of northern Pennsylvania raise.

I wouldn't have missed this unexpected meeting of these forty-seven men for anything. Heretofore my knowledge of the Wilson and Company organization has been confined largely to personal contact with the rank and file of workers in the Chicago and New York plants. It had not been my pleasure to meet sales representatives in a convention of their own. This convention of the managers of Pennsylvania and salesmen of Wilson and Company in the Northeastern District of Pennsylvania had been planned to discuss ways and means to better promote the sale of the Wilson Certified food products such as the smoked meats, boiled hams, sausage and canned fruits, vegetables and meats.

It was my privilege to sit in their meeting and I am very glad I had the opportunity, because these men have got it in their souls to promote the interests of their Chief, Thomas E. Wilson, who has put intelligence and integrity into food products, something that has given his name and his products a reputation which permits his sales organizations in all sections of the country to sell Wilson Certified Brands under their good names and quality, without necessitating salesmen to carry samples.

I heard a new phrase used by one of the branch managers that I think is a "worker" and I am passing it along to you because you will appreciate what it means for an organization to be backed up by men who are proud of its achievements in food productions as if they owned the business themselves.

This is what he said:

"Isn't it great, boys, to be associated with an organization in which our CONFIDENCE IS CERTIFIED to as great an extent as the Certified products which we have the pleasure of selling? You can't beat that, boys, can you?"

Did you ever hear before the expression "Certified Confidence"? Do you appreciate what it means? How many friends have you got on your list in whom you have "Certified Confidence?"

Answering that question for yourselves, you know what it means when I tell you that this Northeastern Division of Pennsylvania branch workers and salesmen as well as every other division of salesmen in all sections of the country HAVE "Certified Confidence" in Thomas E. Wilson and his food products.

The Chairman of the meeting made these remarks:

"With the splendid backing that our sales people are getting from Mr. Wilson and his family of executives and his associate workers in the various plants, we must pull together and see to it that Wilson products may be sold in every section of the territory. Wilson products must be liberally distributed among dealers so that the consumer will have no difficulty in buying them. We must develop and cultivate the trade of the small dealer. We must not overlook the fact that the small dealer is the large dealer of next year. Banded together as we are no power, our efforts can hold us back from making a place for our Company and ourselves in the business world. We know that the policy of the business is sound in the core and the fact that our motto, 'The Wilson Label Protects Your Table' insures a square deal for all, there is no reason why dealers everywhere should not carry a full line of Wilson and Company products, thus enabling us to establish a wonderful full chorus of dealers handling Certified foods from one end of the country to the other, and through these dealers establishing a splendid relationship between the consumers and our organization. We have confidence in our Company and in its methods, we have confidence in ourselves and with these three fundamentals we cannot fail to build a business that will endure in honor and service forever."
